

A LIBRIVOX WEEKLY POETRY PROJECT

ODE
7

ANACREON

LibriVox volunteers bring you 19 recordings of Ode 7 by Anacreon, translated by Sir Thomas Moore.

This was the Weekly Poetry project for August 14, 2022.

The more things change, the more they stay the same. Written sometime around 500 BC, this little poem expresses the desire to live life to the fullest with the time one has left. Here's to gray (or lack of) hair and the autumn of one's life! - Summary by TriciaG

Read by LibriVox volunteers . Total running time: 00:19:24

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.

Cover picture Anacreon in his Old Ge Crowned by Love (before 1762) by Jean-Baptiste Greuze. Copyright expired in U.S., Canada, EU. and all countries with author's life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by nnise. This design is in the public domain.

ODE 7 ANACREON

ODE 7 ANACREON